¹What is the best way to study? ²Many people think studying alone in a quiet place is best. ³However, many Jewish people have a different approach. ⁴They believe studying with a partner is best. ⁵They call this method “havruta,” meaning “friendship” in Hebrew.

⁶In havruta, students study with a partner. ⁷They ask each other questions. ⁸When one person understands something, they explain it to the other. ⁹If they disagree, they share ideas to convince each other. ¹⁰This way, students see different points of view and understand their subjects more deeply. ¹¹Their classrooms are often noisy. ¹²Students raise their hands and actively share their thoughts. ¹³It may not work for everyone, but people who use havruta enjoy it.
