^①In 1598, Portuguese sailors arrived at Mauritius, a small island in the Indian Ocean.

^②The sailors saw big birds with small wings there. ^③The birds couldn't run or fly. ^④They probably did not need to do so because they had no natural enemies. ^⑤They just fed on fruits and nuts that fell on the ground. ^⑥Since the birds had never seen humans, they were not afraid and approached people. ^⑦The sailors misunderstood this and thought the birds were stupid. ^⑧This is why they called the birds "dodo," which means "stupid" in Portuguese. ^⑨The sailors hunted the birds for meat. ^⑩More ships arrived, and the hunting continued. ^⑪By 1681, the last dodo had disappeared from the world. ^⑫Mauritius, once home to the dodo, is now a graveyard for the birds that "stupidly" welcomed the sailors.
