^①My husband used to work for a mobile library. ^②He had to take care of two blue delivery vans. ^③They looked exactly alike. ^④Both were the same size, the same color, and even had broken mirrors on the passenger side. ^⑤It was very hard to tell them apart!

^⑥One day, both vehicles were running low on fuel. ^⑦So, he drove the first van to a nearby gas station. ^⑧He smiled at the worker and said, "Fill it up, please." ^⑨The worker filled the tank. ^⑩Five minutes later, my husband returned to the same gas station—but this time in the second van. ^⑪Again, he smiled and said, "Fill it up, please." ^⑫The worker first looked at the van, then at my husband. ^⑬"How far did you drive in just five minutes?" he asked.
